this book reads martin crimp s the treatment 1993 attempts on her life 1997 the country 2000 face to the wall 2002 cruel and tender 2004 and his adaptation of chekhov s the seagull 2006 in the context of contemporary late capitalist societies of control or of spectacle and explores how female collapse in particular works as a form of denunciation of the violence of globalized technological neo liberalism the book contends that crimp is a post holocaust writer whose dramaturgy is pervaded by the ethical and aesthetic debates that the holocaust has generated in the twentieth and twenty first centuries its main claim is that by interpellating spectators through the defamiliarized language of collapse and testimony crimp invites spectators to contribute to detecting the seeds of barbarism as they may detect them in their context thus warning them about the introduction of violence in supposedly civilized relationships and thereby also contributing to overcoming the contemporary ethical impasse the book finally argues that female characters who pass on their testimony are shown to the audience in the process of becoming ethical bodies namely they are emerge as ethical out of the perceived necessity to integrate both the other as essential parts of their beings thus recovering an innate baumian sense of responsibility towards the other the story the author carries us through a number of varied scenes and shows us not only a somewhat unflattering picture of womanhood but digging under the surface reveals a human understanding for and sympathy with some of its outstanding figure this book explores the unique way in which russian culture constructs the notion of everyday life or byt and offers the first unified reading of silver age narrative which it repositions at the centre of russian modernism drawing on semiotics and theology stephen c hutchings argues that byt emerged from a dialogue between two traditions one reflected in western representational aesthetics for which daily existence figures as neutral and normative the other encapsulated in the orthodox emphasis on iconic embodiment hutchings identifies early decadent formulations of byt as a milestone after which writers from chekhov to rozanov sought to affirm the iconic potential hidden in russian realism s critique of representationalism provocative yet careful textual analyses reveal a consistent urge to redefine art s function as one not of representing life but of transfiguring the everyday
